> FRO-YO WARS — Now that D-list celeb Yul Kwon's Red Mango permit has been revoked by the chain law, he says he is stuck paying $7,000 a month

> PRESIDIOWIRE — More details continue to emerge regarding Foggy Bridge, the winery project coming to the Presidio: "The winery will be housed in the 20,000-square-foot former aircraft hangar built in 1921, and will have a 3,700-square-foot tasting area in what was once an Army machine shop. There Foggy Bridge will offer educational seminars, food-and-wine pairing events and a tasting bar. In the fall of 2008, the winery plans to open a 120-seat restaurant called Left Bank Brasserie (Left Bank Restaurant Group runs a popular chain of these brasseries in the Bay area)."
